

THE HAWAIIAN STAR.

VOL. I.

HONOLULU, HAWAIIAN ISLANDS, FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 15, 1893.

NO. 223.

Bishop's Bank. Post Office.

A word to the wise is sufficient; our double stores are adjacent to the above institutions; by calling at the former, you present your check, receive your money, then step across to our store, make your purchases for Christmas; and such as require the attention of the Post Office—"which is next door to us," our clerk will be pleased to look after for you.

NEW YORK CITY,

or rather a fair proportion of that great metropolis has just arrived at our store. Remember, we never take a back seat during the holidays. Our goods—purchased direct from the MANUFACTURERS, embrace a complete assortment of most desirable articles for XMAS GIFTS.

27 Large Cases . .

RECEIVED EX
S. S. AUSTRALIA.

It is utterly impossible to make a list of everything, as the STAR isn't large enough, and we don't want to deprive other advertisers of their space.

A CALL . .

and inspection of the different lines on view will repay you for the trouble of coming down as far as Merchant street, as you will find the largest assortment and lowest prices . . .

AMONG THE THOUSAND AND ONE

ARTICLES WILL BE FOUND

Books for the young people, Books for the old people, Games and Calendars, Autograph Albums, Letter Cases, Cigar Cases, Music Rolls, Frames for Paris Panel Photos, Ink Stands, Photograph Albums, Booklets, Wild West Games, Toilet Sets (an entirely new line), Photo Boxes, Necktie Boxes, Mirrors, Collar and Cuff Boxes, Work Boxes, Shaving Sets, Manicure Sets, Jewel Cases, Music Boxes, Lap Tablets, Portfolios, Papeteries, Paper Knives, Match Boxes, Pen Wipers, Writing Desks, Games, etc., for Children.

A well known Engineer in charge of a large Sugar Mill writes us this week: "We use no other but VACUUM OILS, they are the best."

Genuine Mixed Paints, made of pure colors and pure oils. The MAKERS name on each can a guarantee of quality. During the past year a large quantity of this paint has been used with the most satisfactory results.

Fence Wire, Galvanized or plain Black annealed—Four Point Galvanized Black Wire. So much complaint has been made of the quality of Fence Wire brought into this market, that, after tests covering the past five years, we have selected a make of Fence Wire peculiarly adapted to this climate, and which has proved superior to any other. Users of this make of wire endorse its value.

Water Filters. Do not try experiments with articles made "to sell" and then buy a "Slack & Brownlow" after paying for your experience, as so many have done. Slack & Brownlow's Water Filters are made on scientific principles, and are known and used everywhere. They are accessible in all parts and can be cleaned by the user.

HAZING A DRUMMER.
RATTLING RECEPTION GIVEN A COMMERCIAL TRAVELER.

He was the first of his kind to visit the Town, and He Took Too Serious a View of Himself—It Was a Put Up Job, "and Well Put Up, Too," Says the Colonel.

"It was while I was stationed at Fort Nimitz," Colonel George Heron began as he lighted a fresh cigar at the Lucas club the other night, "that the first commercial traveler—drumming some people call them—made his appearance in Honolulu. He was a slim little fellow, and he seemed to have given a good deal of care to his personal adornment. Where he made his mistake was in taking too serious a view of himself."

"He dropped into Valentine on one of the first trains that got through over the new road. He had a couple of fancy yellow grips that must have looked very pretty to him, for he juggled them with him when he went into Dutch George's saloon to get a drink. His other accompaniments were a very light striped suit and a jaunty little straw hat which aroused the mirth of the cowboys."

"It's surprising how little some fellows can pick up in traveling around the earth. Now, that chap didn't know any more than to drop those yellow grips right in front of Dutch George's saloon, and call for a Manhattan cocktail. Yes, sir, he wanted a Manhattan cocktail, and he wanted it quick."

"You ought to have seen Dutch George look at him. Then he winked a couple of times at the row of cowboys sitting along the side of the room and turned around and began to make a lot of things together for dear life. The little drummer leaned one arm on the bar and looked around at the row of cowboys without seeming to see the thing that had edged up behind him. Just as Dutch George had finished mixing what ever it was he had fixed up for the drummer, there was a whop, some of them carried out the cowboy who was supposed to have been shot, and Dutch George began looking for a rope. The drummer just gaped two or three times and a cold drop in a chair white as ghost and stared almost to death. Once or twice he tried to say something, but all he could get out was a whisper, 'Why, gentlemen, I—why—what—I assure you I—'

"So they started to take the little chap out to hang him. There was a tree that would serve in 40 fathoms and they were a good deal puzzled as to how to get a satisfactory gallows on such short notice. They kept talking it over before the drummer in the coolest sort of way, and I tell you he was scared. Just as they got to the door of the saloon there was a shout that the sheriff was coming, and the drummer was in their hands, demanding the prisoner in the name of the law. The little drummer was so relieved that he could have hugged the sheriff, and he began to try to talk again. The sheriff told him to shut up if he wanted to get out of the saloon and started with him for the door. But just as soon as his back was turned out of the cowboys shouted:

"Shoot him! Shoot him! Don't let him get away like that."

"The sheriff and his man swung round and whipped out their six shooters again. 'Keep back,' he shouted. 'I'll shoot the first galoot that touches this man so full of holes he won't need a grave.'"

"The cowboys took the challenge, and in less than a quarter of a second more than 40 pistol shots were fired. It sounded like an engagement of infantry. The room was full of smoke. Two or three of the cowboys fell to the floor, and the man who was with the sheriff went down with a groan, crying that he was done for. Somehow or other the sheriff got off all right, and while the shooting was in progress the drummer went into the street. The little drummer was near having a fit from fright, and the sheriff had lost his hat. It was a particularly fine specimen, with a band heavily ornamented with silver, and the sheriff wouldn't have lost it to save 14 men from being lynched. So he took the drummer to the corner of the saloon and said:

"Now, I'm going back there for my hat. Don't you wiggle out of this spot till I come back. If you do, I'm mighty liable to lose your life mighty sudden and unpleasant."

"With that the sheriff left. The drummer standing in the corner and went back to the saloon. He hadn't any more than opened the door before the shooting began again, and what had been done before was a mere trifle to what was done now. The little drummer listened to it for a minute and then all of a sudden seemed to realize that he was alone and that the road was before him. The next instant a sixth of a second he was off up the road like a quarter horse, with never a thought of his two fancy yellow grips."

"He'd got about 150 yards away when the door of the saloon opened, and Dutch George and the sheriff and half a dozen cowboys jumped out into the street with their guns
